Notes to Condensed Interim Financial Statements

September 30, 2025

1. Nature of operations

Legacy Gold Mines Ltd. (formerly Prestwick Capital Corporation Limited) (the "Company") was incorporated under the Business Corporations Act (Alberta) on June 4, 2021. The Company maintains its head office at 30th Floor, 421 7th Avenue SW, Calgary, Alberta T2P 4K9 and its registered office at 1250, 639 - 5th Avenue SW., Calgary, Alberta, T2P 0M9. The Company was a Capital Pool Company ("CPC") as defined pursuant to Policy 2.4 of The TSX Venture Exchange (the "TSXV").

On July 24, 2024 the Company entered into a definitive option agreement (the "Option Agreement") with respect to a transaction (the "Transaction") whereby the Company obtained an option (the "Option") to acquire from Champion Electric Metals Inc. ("Champion") a 100% undivided interest in and to the mineral claims comprising the Baner gold project located in Idaho County, Idaho, USA (the "Baner Gold Project"). The Baner Gold Project is comprised of 215 unpatented lode claims covering approximately 3,818 contiguous acres (1,545 hectares). The Transaction was completed on October 3, 2024 and constituted the Company's Qualifying Transaction, with the result that the Company is now a Tier 2 mining issuer under the policies of the TSXV under the symbol "LEGY".

2. Statement of compliance

These unaudited condensed interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) applicable to the preparation of interim financial statements, including IAS 34, Interim Financial Reporting and interpretations adopted by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB). These condensed interim financial statements follow the same accounting policies and methods of application as those used in the Company's audited financial statements for the year end December 31, 2024.

The financial statements were approved by the Board of Directors on November 12, 2025.

3. Going concern

The Company recently began to conduct commercial operations but has not yet begun to generate revenue from its exploration activities. The Company's continuing operations are dependent upon its being successful in its exploration efforts and ultimately develop producing mines. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to identify quantities and qualities of minerals that are economically recoverable. Substantial additional funds for the establishment of the Company's current and planned mineral exploration and development will be required. The ability of the Company to fund its potential future operations and commitments is dependent upon its ability to obtain additional financing. These conditions indicate the existence of a material uncertainty that may cast significant doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

4. Functional and presentation currency

These financial statements are presented in Canadian dollars, which is the Company's functional currency.

5. Material accounting policies

Measurement uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the balance sheet date and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period.

The following is the financial statement item which is most impacted by estimation uncertainty and critical judgments in applying the accounting policies.

The Company recognizes deferred tax assets to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available to utilize the Company's deductible temporary differences which are based on management's judgement on the degree of future taxable profits. To the extent that future taxable profits differ significantly from the estimates impacts the amount of the deferred tax assets management judges is probable.

Exploration, evaluation and resource property acquisition costs

The Company is in the exploration stage with respect to its investment in resource property costs and accordingly follows the practice of capitalizing significant acquisition costs on active exploration properties and expensing exploration and evaluation expenditures. The aggregate costs related to abandoned mineral properties are charged to operations at the time of any abandonment or when it has been determined that there is evidence of an impairment. An impairment charge relating to a mineral property is subsequently reversed when new exploration results or actual or potential proceeds on sale or farm out of the property result in a revised estimate of the recoverable amount but only to the extent that this does not exceed the original carrying value of the property that would have resulted if no impairment had been recognized.

The recoverability of amounts shown for exploration and evaluation assets is dependent upon the discovery of economically recoverable reserves, the ability of the Company to obtain financing to complete development of the properties, and on future production or proceeds of disposition. The Company recognizes, in income, costs recovered on mineral properties when amounts received or receivable are in excess of the carrying amount of the mineral properties.

All capitalized acquisition expenditures are monitored for indications of impairment. Where a potential impairment is indicated, assessments are performed for each area of interest. To the extent that exploration expenditure is not expected to be recovered, it is charged to the results of operations.

Financial instruments

Recognition

The Company recognizes financial assets and financial liabilities when it becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Classification

Financial assets are classified as subsequently measured at amortized cost, fair value through other comprehensive income or fair value through profit or loss on the basis of both the Company's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset. The classification of subsequently measured at amortized cost is used when the objective of the business model is to hold assets and collect contractual cash flows, and the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

The Company's cash is classified as a financial asset measured at fair value through profit and loss.

Financial liabilities are classified as subsequently measured at amortized cost unless they meet the criteria for measurement at fair value or other prescribed measurement.

The Company's accounts payable are classified as subsequently measured at amortized cost.

Measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities classified as subsequently measured at amortized cost are initially measured at fair value plus or minus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset or issue of the financial liability. Subsequently the financial assets and liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method.

Impairment

Financial assets classified as subsequently measured at amortized cost or fair value through other comprehensive income reflect the Company's assessment of expected credit losses. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk.

Earnings per share

The Company presents basic and diluted earnings per share data for its common shares. Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing earnings attributable to the equity shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. All of the shares held in escrow are considered contingently returnable until the Company completes a Qualifying Transaction and, accordingly, are not considered to be outstanding shares for purposes of the calculation. Diluted earnings per share are determined by adjusting the weighted average number of common shares for the dilutive effect of share based payments using the treasury stock method. Under this method, stock options, whose exercise price is less than the average market price of the Company's common shares, are assumed to be exercised and the proceeds used to repurchase common shares at the average market price for the period.

Income taxes

Income taxes are calculated using the liability method of tax allocation accounting. Temporary differences arising from the difference between the tax basis of an asset or liability and its carrying value on the statement of financial position are used to calculate deferred income tax liabilities or assets. Deferred income tax liabilities or assets are calculated using tax rates anticipated to apply in the periods that the temporary differences are expected to reverse. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that substantive enactment occurs. A deferred tax asset is recognized for unused tax losses, tax credits and deductible temporary differences, to the extent it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be utilized. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized.

Share based payments

Share based payments to employees are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments granted and amortized over the vesting period. Share based payments to non-employees are measured at the fair value of the good or service received or the fair value of the equity instruments issued if it is determined that the fair value of the good or service cannot be measured reliably, and are recorded at the date the good or service is received. The corresponding amount is recorded to an equity reserve. The Company estimates the fair value of options using the Black-Scholes option pricing model.

Accounting standards issued but not yet adopted

IFRS 18 Presentation and disclosure in the financial statements (replacement of IAS 1)

This new standard maintains many of the current requirements for the presentation of financial statements and adds new requirements concerning the statement of profit or loss, management-defined performance measures, and the principles of aggregation and disaggregation of information. The new requirements concerning the statement of profit or loss include requiring entities to classify income and expenses included in the statement of profit or loss in one of five categories (operating, investing, financing, income taxes, discontinued operations), and prescribing that subtotals for operating profit or loss and profit or loss before financing and income taxes are presented. The new requirements concerning management-defined performance measures involve explanation of the purpose, calculation of, and reconciliation to the most closely related performance measure prescribed in an IFRS accounting standard, of performance measures used in public communications by entities outside of the financial statements that are not a measure specifically required to be presented or disclosed by an IFRS accounting standard.

The standard is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2027, with earlier adoption permitted. The Company is assessing the impact of the new standard on its financial statements.

Other new accounting standards and amendments to existing standards that have been issued and that the Company will be required to adopt in future years are either not applicable or are not expected to have a significant impact on the Company's financial statements.
